

Build a global co-operative community!

The Co-operative Development Foundation of Canada is accepting expressions of interest to join its Engagement Committee.

The Engagement Committee, a non-Board committee, is tasked to help staff generate volunteer, financial and technical assistance resources through the expansion of current donor and volunteer relationships and the cultivation of new relationships with the Canadian co-operative sector.

Supported by Foundation staff and leadership, committee members participate directly in the identification and initiation of introductions to potential new funders (providers of either of volunteer time, technical expertise and/or funds).

The current committee is looking to recruit additional members who possess a mix of these key attributes:

- A strong affiliation to the Canadian co-operative sector
- Represent one of four regions (Atlantic, Ontario, Prairies or British Columbia)
- Possess a strong co-operative network and a sphere of influence within that group
- Diversity in gender and ages
- Competency in any combination of the following areas: agriculture, fundraising, marketing, communications, leadership, volunteering and/or strategic development
- Support CDF either personally or through their organization, or desire to do so in the future
