The Project

INVEST Co-op Indonesia project is part of a four-year (2015-2019) multi-country Project bringing sustainable economic growth to women and men small producers through the Integrated Co-operative Model. The Project is funded by Global Affairs Canada (GAC) with contribution from the Co-operative Development Foundation of Canada (CDF Canada). In Indonesia, INVEST Co-op is introducing aquaculture practices that are resilient to climate change and increase quality and yield of production. Support is also being provided to farmers to improve access to financial services and markets through their co-operatives. By training the co-operatives in the seven basic principles (in alignment with the International Co-operative Alliance ICA), the project aims to enable co-operatives to be profitable, sustainable, and to run gender-equitable businesses by strengthening their institutional capacity to serve their members better. Aquaculture microinsurance will also be developed to protect the farmers against financial impact of losses due to weather disturbances. Activities will promote collaboration with governments, private companies, business associations, research institutions, and other stakeholders to strengthen networks and create a conducive environment.

Our Partner

Kospermindo is a co-operative enterprise established in 1999 with a vision to become the prominent trade centre for seaweed in the world. It began providing coaching and training to their seaweed farmers with an industrial cluster approach in 2002 and now operates in 12 locations throughout South Sulawesi, one location in Central Sulawesi, and one location in East Kalimantan. Ko-spermindo is the first organization authorized by the Ministry of Trade's Commodity Futures Trading Regulatory Agency (CoFTRA) to implement a warehouse receipt system for seaweed commodity in Indonesia.

PT Asuransi Central Asia and is one of the five most important Indonesian insurance agencies, with 36 branch office and 34 representative offices around Indonesia. It has a branch office in Makassar and one of the leaders in developing microinsurance products in the country.

Your Role and the Assignment in Brief

As a volunteer, you will be working in close coordination with ACA Asuransi. You will be based in ACA Asuransi office, located in Jakarta, the capital city of Indonesia. Jakarta is the largest city and is the center of economy, culture and politics in the country. Travel to Makassar, South Sulawesi is also expected.

In close coordination with staff of ACA Asuransi, you are expected to facilitate the development of a business plan for the aquaculture micro insurance product developed under this project. The business plan must be based on a sound risk assessment accompanied by a risk management strategy, with recommendations to set-up a structure for risk management around the product.

E-volunteering

Depending on the nature of the placement, volunteers are encouraged to provide e-volunteering support to our local partners or CDF Canada before or after their placement. Volunteers also have the option of requesting support from an e-volunteer to help them with their work while they are in placement.

Engaging Canadians

CDF Canada provides technical and logistical support to young and experienced professionals through volunteer assignments to apply and gain new skills and knowledge in international co-operative development. We ask each volunteer, regardless of placement duration, to share her/his experience during and/or upon completion of their assignment either in the country of assignment and in Canada. Experience may be shared through providing human interest stories and photographs that can be used for social media outreach; participating in organized talks at universities or other public engagement activities to share and tell their experiences to motivate others.

Application Process

Please submit a resume and letter to apply@cdfcanada.coop You must be a Canadian citizen or permanent resident. Successful candidates will be required to obtain a police-check from their local police police/RCMP detachment. All applicants are thanked for their interest in CDF Canada; however, only those selected for an interview will be contacted.
